

The original signed form and all attachments will be sent to the State Location and Design Engineer. If a difference of opinion exists regarding a rating between the inspector and the designer, the State Location and Design Engineer (or other appropriate designer) to review the information and decide what the appropriate rating should be. This will then be recorded as the final rating.*